

XM has every right to broadcast local content if they want! Is there some stupid law that says otherwise? Too bad the big corporate bullies would rather waste their time and money trying to crush XMs effort rather than competing.